CLA

The initial meeting of the CLA Negotiating Table took place last Monday, with the objective of establishing a timeline and schedule for the forthcoming negotiation sessions.

Following Javier Gandara's discussion on the impending CLA during the 'Country Update' briefing in December, there was an anticipation and expectation for a more structured and committed approach from the company in these negotiations.

The initial proposal of merely two meetings per month, in contrast to the previous negotiation's weekly meetings that still failed to conclude on time, was met with disappointment by both unions.

Subsequent discussions with Spanish HR have led to the scheduling of three meetings each for February and March, with the second meeting planned for January 31st.

We will continue to provide updates as developments occur.
